Step 1 — Outer Cover & Faceplate

- Open the tray by pressing the eject button
- Remove the DVD tray faceplate by pushing the faceplate up off of the tray.

Step 2

- Press the eject button to insert the tray
- After the tray is closed unplug DVD player

Step 3

- Unscrew the 3 screws in the back.

Step 4

- Pull the outer case upward and then towards you.

Step 5

- There are six symmetrically placed tabs holding in the front faceplate. Unhook these six tabs to loosen the faceplate.

Step 6

- Pull off front faceplate. This may take a couple of tries to get all six tabs unhooked simultaneously.

Step 7 — Power Cord

- Locate the white clip that attaches the cord to the motherboard
- Grasp clip and squeeze to release
- Lift up and remove power cord
- Slide cord mount from outer case

Step 8 — Tray

- Remove the three screws holding in the DVD tray

Step 9

- Remove the power cord and first two ribbons by pulling them directly out of their sockets.

Step 10

- Gently lift the DVD tray off of the motherboard.

Step 11 — Cleaning Samsung DVD-P230 Laser Lens

- Spin small gear shown right to begin opening the tray. There should be relatively little resistance in the gear.

Step 12

- Use your fingers to pull the shown tabs towards the sides of the tray, releasing the internal tray that contains the laser.

Step 13

- Use the cotton swab to wipe off lens

To reassemble your device, follow these instructions in reverse order.
